

Gordon Gallagher, CPA, CGA

Gordon specializes in providing accounting, tax and business advisory services to owner-managed businesses, individuals and trusts. He began his accounting career in 1980 and received his Certified General Accountant designation in 1988. He joined the Manning Elliott team in 1999.

Gordon has developed extensive experience providing advice on accounting and tax issues relating to personal, corporate, trust, estate and GST/HST issues. He also serves his clients through his expertise on financial planning and computerized small business accounting software (QuickBooks). He takes great personal pride in developing and maintaining long-term client relationships based on trust, loyalty, accessibility and professional care.

Mentoring junior team members is also important to him. In addition, he oversees the development and process improvement of Manning Elliott's internal financial reporting templates.

Gordon is a devoted husband and father of two. His passions include photography, travel, food, tennis and music.
